

I value obtaining broadband internet service from my local ISP, Sonic.net, and I do not want these small companies to be wiped out and replaced by large telephone monopolies. I think the FCC should continue to regulate broadband services to this end. Thank you.